Diyixian.com Officially Launched Vietnam PoP in June to Provide More Comprehensive Network Coverage for Customers' Business Development!

30 Jun 2008
Xinhua PR Newswire

HONG KONG, June 30 /Xinhua-PRNewswire/ -- Following market developments in Southeast Asia, Vietnam has been much favored by entrepreneurs of Hong Kong and Taiwan. According to HKTDC, Vietnam's GDP has recorded a growth of 8% with total export up to US$40 billion and direct foreign investment up to US$11 billion since joining the WTO in 2007. Many large-scale and small-to-medium companies are full of new hopes for doing business in Vietnam by opening factories there. Vietnam is an emerging Asian country with potentials and rapid economic growth. Even the front-page story, titled "Vietnam -- Asia's Other Miracle", of the April issue of an international economics magazine "The Economist" used 14 pages to analyze and report on Vietnam as a new developing economy from different angles.

In June this year, the Vietnam POP at Ho Chi Minh City of the Diyixian network was officially launched. The establishment of this new POP became a milestone for Diyixian.com Ltd. (<http://www.dyxnet.com/marketing/2008/VN%20Announcement%20page.htm>) in opening emerging markets of Asia. As one of the leading ICT service providers in the greater China region, Diyixian.com has been providing small-to-medium enterprises and large-scale commercial clients with reliable and wide-coverage comprehensive network services for years, assisting them in seeking the best solutions. Diyixian.com, accustomed to fast response to customers and market needs, is one of the leading corporations of the industry.

In recent years, for customers who have invested in Asia in manufacturing and commerce, apart from first-choice China, Vietnam and other Asian countries have become other regions for focused investment. Vietnam's economy has been growing fast. According to the Institute for Information Industry in Vietnam, Vietnam's telephone system and international network have been developing rapidly and identified as the world's fastest growing international network domain.

The Establishment in Hochiminh City on Networking Service, DYXnet Provides the Perfect ICT Supports for Business Expansion in the Blooming Vietnam's Manufacturing Market!

The information technology and network infrastructure are the important parts of a country's development and the best channel for cross-region, remote-site and resource-sharing services for large and small enterprises. The construction and expansion of the network have gradually changed the operational mode of enterprises. Under the Virtual Private Network (VPN) framework, in particular, enterprise employees are no longer restricted to the office location. The pressure of business competition has also forced many enterprises to form alliances with their manufacturing and business partners. By sharing the same network resources, they can work more efficiently, lower operating cost and increase competitive advantage. According to Mr. Lap Man, the CEO of Diyixian.com Ltd, "Wherever our customers are, we are there. We aim to help them in providing all sorts of one-stop networking and ICT solutions." Lap said, "Many of our customers have plans, or some even already have their businesses, factories in Vietnam over the few years. The opportunity was there since Vietnam joining the WTO in 2007. As we have a developed and mature business mode that runs in China, Hong Kong and Taiwan, we are confident to extend our reach to another new market."

Starting from June 2008, Diyixian.com Limited (http://www.dyxnet.com/marketing/2008/Vietnam%20Fact%20Sheet_Chin+Eng%202008-08.pdf) has started to provide the Vietnam network services for enterprises and SMBs in Hong Kong and Taiwan. The PoP is built on top of two T3 trunks from Hong Kong connecting Ho Chi Minh City and Hanoi, the two major cities in Vietnam. The resilient design provides customers with robust, high availability and stable network connection. The one-stop ICT services provided by Diyixian allow customers to focus on their businesses without worrying the IT setup.
